

Mathematics project

by:Angelina Aguilar-Pope

Elevator Speech

What my project is about is how platonic solids are related to arts and design and how that played in terms of making designs since platonic solids are well used with both math and art.

Shapes that are common in both mathematics and art

